SUBJECT: Reimbursable Service Program

U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) has shared numerous effective and successful collaborative efforts between the agency and the Trade community we serve. One of these efforts, the CBP Reimbursable Service Program (RSP), is a great tool in helping facilitate safe and timely trade and travel. To those in our local trade community who currently utilize the program, thank you for your continued participation. For those who are interested in the program, please go to the following website;

<https://www.cbp.gov/border-security/ports-entry/resource-opt-strategy/public-private-partnerships/reimbursable-services-program>

For all current participants in the CBP Reimbursable Service Program, please take time to review the statutes, regulations, and procedures governing your agreement. There you will also see instructions on requesting reimbursable services, and how to receive and interpret CBP's decision on service requests.

For any additional information on the program, please contact Chief CBP Officer Timothy Walinkas at timothy.walinkas@cbp.dhs.gov.

Thank you.
